The Route as Driven and the Stop Worth Remembering

We set out from the inn and planned to return by the ridge. When the weather cleared after lunch, we took the lower road along the river and stopped at the mill.

Five Photograph References and Caption Notes

T001 at the inn. T002 on the ridge. T003 at lunch. T004 shows the old mill on Saturday afternoon. T005 records our arrival at the inn.

The Tour Record

A finished account, supported by the route and images.

Route and Company

Two days from the inn, with the return leg along the river. The ridge road remained on the plan. The record shows the shorter route actually driven.

The Account

Lunch ran long and the weather broke as we reached the river. We took the lower road and stopped at the mill. It was the place we talked about on the way home.

Caption

T004 · Old mill, Saturday afternoon. An unplanned stop after lunch and the point at which the weather cleared.

What Goes with the Record

File the planned route, actual route, finished account, five captioned photographs, and navigator’s notes together. The owner keeps the file as part of the car’s touring history.
